Hon. Henry D. Clayton Discusses the Democratic Congress.

We print below the speech of Congressman Clayton, of the third Congressional District of Alabama, during the closing hours of the extra session of congress. He set forth in his brief speech the position of each of the two great parties, and predicts greater things for the democrats. Mr. Clayton believes that the next president will be a democrat. The following is what Mr. Clayton said as it appears in the Congressional Record of August 15, 1911:

"Mr. Speaker, this session is about to come to a close [applause], and it is not improper to call attention in a brief way to the conduct of the two parties during the present session and their attitude with respect to public questions. We have, Mr. Speaker, I am glad to say, for the first time in about 15 years a Democratic Party united in this House and united in the country. [Applause on the Democratic side.] This Democratic House united has done much to solidify the party throughout the country. [Applause on the Democratic side.] Our opponents on the other side of the aisle can derive poor comfort from their division here and the division of their party at the other end of the Capitol."

"You Republicans are divided into warring factions. Until today we might have thought you had some leadership here, but in the very beginning of this discussion this morning you displayed the fact that you have not any leadership. [Applause on the Democratic side.] You have not agreed on anything either in this body or in the other branch of the National Legislature. There are not perhaps a dozen of you that can get together and really and conscientiously agree with the President and his policies, whatever they may be. You are composed of hostile elements, and you can not agree here or in the Senate, and you are sometimes forced to yield your convictions and follow the dictates of the man in the White House. [Applause on the Democratic side.] You could not carry out the small agreement here to-day. [Applause on the Democratic side.] You have not carried out any promise that you made the American people in the last 15 years. All your platform promises to revise the tariff have been broken just as often as you made them. [Applause on the Democratic side.] And you will never agree as a party to any schedule in any tariff platform until you return to your old method, which is to let the special interests write the schedules of the Republican tariff and you will take it without the crossing of a 'p' or the dotting of an 'i.' That is the way the McKinley bill was prepared; that is the way your Dingley bill was prepared. It was charged by Hon. Burton McMillan, then a member of the Ways and Means Committee, that your cutlery schedule, for instance, in the Dingley bill was written by the special interests in New York and brought down here and adopted bodily without a single change. "Now, we have done the best we could against the opposition of the Republican Party, aiding the special selfish interests to fight us. [Applause on the Democratic side.] We have taken up several schedules and have devoted more time to their consideration, to gathering of information, and to the study of them than you ever devoted to the consideration of a whole tariff bill [applause on the Democratic side], and yet you find fault with us. It is delay; it is always delay that you urge. You did not want delay when you were in power and could carry out the dictates given to you by the special interests. The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired. Mr. UNDERWOOD. I will yield a few minutes more to the gentleman. Mr. CLAYTON. You criticize us, but I want to say that a large element in your party has seen the light. They have seen it break through, and they have helped us to do some things that the Republican Party has refused to do. Aided by that element in your party in this branch and in the other branch of Congress, we have forced a Republican President to sign a bill admitting Arizona and New Mexico into the Union, a promise that you have been making for years, but you never kept that promise until you had a Democratic House to force you to it. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

You have been promising campaign publicity, and you offered that puny measure in the last Congress publishing campaign expenses after the campaign was over. A Democratic House has forced a Republican President to sign a real campaign publicity bill. I want to tell you that next winter a Democratic House will force a Republican President to sign some bills looking to real tariff legislation; and if he does not do so, doubtless in the next election the people of the country will drive you out of this House and drive a Republican out of the presidential chair, and elect men who will execute their will and give the people lower taxes. [Loud applause on the Democratic side.] And, Mr. Speaker, I think it is not too much to say that this Democratic House is to be credited, more than any other agency, with the favorable action in behalf of the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people. [Applause on the Democratic side.] And there can be no doubt that the patriotism and wisdom of this Democratic House has met every possible objection to the long-delayed admission of New Mexico and Arizona as States into the Union. This House has forced, by the removal of every objection, that has been urged to their admission, the Republican President to reluctantly and at a late time redeem the promise of his party to aid in giving the people of these Territories equal rights with the people of the other States of the Union. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

The Republicans can no longer charge that the Democratic Party is not in favor of constructive legislation, nor can it be any longer charged that the Democratic Party is composed of conflicting factions. That great party has redeemed in part and as far as it could up to this time, its promises made to the people, and has made the country know that it will redeem its every promise if entrusted with the control of both branches of Congress and the presidential office. Against Republican excuses, delays, and broken promises the Democratic Party offers its record made during this extraordinary session. To Republican standpatism let us oppose Democratic progress. Our party will continue to fight to enact remedial legislation and to see to it that the Government is operated not in the interest of the classes but for the good of the masses of the American people. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

Gilford Sellers Convicted of Manslaughter.

The case of Gilford Sellers who killed Duncan Sikes about three years ago was tried a second time in the Circuit Court at Enterprise, and was convicted of manslaughter in the second degree and sentenced to hard labor for twelve months. The case was tried Tuesday and the jury was out all night Tuesday night, rendering their verdict early Wednesday morning. No appeal will be taken this time.

It will be recalled that Sellers was convicted two years ago and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, but upon appeal of the case to the supreme court, the indictment was declared void and the judgment of conviction was reversed. A new indictment was preferred, and he was tried again this week with the result stated above.

Hon. R. P. Hobson Explains His Position.

In a letter addressed to his constituents, Hon. R. P. Hobson, member of Congress from the 6th District of Alabama, explains his action in taking part in the prohibition campaign in Maine. The following is his letter in regard to this matter:

My dear Constituent: You have no doubt noticed in the press criticism of my action as a Democratic Member of Congress in accepting an urgent invitation to go to Maine and take part in the critical struggle now going on to preserve prohibition in that Citadel of Temperance. Realizing my full accountability to you as a public servant, I think it is right and timely for me to let you know that I have been taking part as my official duties permit in fights for prohibition and temperance in various states. Democratic states, Republican states, and doubtful states and that in this great social and moral question I recognize no party lines, but simply the obligation and duty that rests upon good citizens of all parties.

As it is my firm purpose to continue in this path of duty, in Congress, and as the question is liable to arise from time to time, I am sending you under separate cover a speech of mine on the subject, and wish to make a personal request that you read it carefully and when you have done so and recognize the living vital truth that impels my action, I know, whether your ideas have differed from mine or not, that I will stand justified in your eyes as I do before my own conscience. Holding myself ready to serve you at all times, I remain,

Your friend,
R. P. Hobson.

Senator Brown's Work.

The $5,000,000 industrial school for white children will be located at Ragland, Ala., and Senator W. T. Brown is to be congratulated upon his splendid victory, as he backed his home city with his money and energy.

Senator Brown is a citizen of whom any community should be proud. He is an enterprising and hard worker. When he goes after a thing he usually gets it. This school is to be established by the Southern Bureau of Education, with funds given by the Rockefeller and Sage foundation, Mrs. Harriman and others. Ragland gave five thousand acres of land for site; 200 town lots, water power and other consideration.

When the announcement was made this school was to be erected in the South Senator Brown immediately got busy and won after a hard fight over several other cities. —Montgomery Journal.

Returns to His Work.

Hon. J. E. Pittman, farm demonstrator for this division of Coffee county has been enjoying a month's vacation, which ends today, and tomorrow, Sept. 1, he will again take up his duties as demonstrator and endeavor to secure better results in the way of improved farm methods and increased yield from the various crops under his supervision. He issues the following appeal for co-operation and timely words of advice to the farmers of Coffee county:

"By the assistance of the Bureau of Plant Industry I hope, by their co-operation, to be of some benefit to the farmers of this section. I ask and hope for continued co-operation in this work."

"Now is the time for selecting seed, both corn and cotton, to plant our next crop with. This we should do at all hazards. We well know that in order to produce big yields we must have good varieties of seed, and in our fields we have all kinds. We can select just such as we like best, thereby saving the expense of having them shipped to us in the spring. After selecting your seed, if you have more than you need you can sell them to your neighbor at a good price."

"Another thing we should not neglect, and that is the sowing of a cover crop of rye, turf oats, or clover. Any time now that there is sufficient moisture in the ground to bring the seed up is a good time. This will improve the soils, and at the same time furnish good pasture in the late winter and early spring."

"From the fact that we sell our cotton seed and do not put them back on the lands, forces us, if we expect to grow cotton on our lands, to plant these cover crops, rotate our farms and grow leguminous crops, such as peas, velvet beans and other things similar." —Peoples Ledger.

Bacon Notes.

It has been so long since I wrote for a paper that I hardly know how to begin.

There is some sickness in this community at present.

Ticklebreaches.

To Test The Law.

For the purpose of testing the law recently passed by the legislature abolishing the county court of Coffee county, a suit has been filed in said court by the Elba Drug Co. against Pate Lee. The suit is based on a claim of thirty dollars and the case is assigned for trial next Monday, Sept. 4.

Representative J. E. Pittman will defend the validity of the law which he had passed, and has employed J. A. Canley, R. H. Arrington and perhaps others. O. C. Doster and M. A. Owen are attorneys for plaintiff.

It is believed by some that the presiding judge will rule against the validity of the act and hold that the court has not been legally abolished upon constitutional grounds. If this proves true, then an appeal will be taken to the supreme court and the question settled by that tribunal. —Peoples Ledger.

Teach Training Class Graduates Exercises At Church.

Last night at the Methodist Church here a splendid program was executed in the graduating exercises of the teachers training class. Rev. J. F. Fagin presided, and Rev. D. P. Lee delivered the graduating address.

Mrs. Claude Riley, who was herself one of the graduates of the Teachers' Training Course, was the teacher of the Training Classes, and there were ten graduates, as follows: Mrs. W. P. Boyd, Mrs. E. M. Buck, Mrs. W. H. Coston, Mrs. Claude Riley, Mrs. M. S. Carmichael, Mrs. Sam Rubenstein, and Misses Ada and Ella Law, Eunora Farris, and Fanny Grimes. R. M. Wilder had also taken the course of study but was not present at the graduation of the class.

Addresses were made by different representatives of the Sunday schools of Elba, namely, Messrs. J. B. Amos, F. A. Symonds, and Prof. R. J. H. Simmons. Miss Claudine Rushing sang a solo, and there was some other splendid music rendered as part of the program.

Those who had completed the Teachers' Training Courses were given diplomas. The exercises were well attended.

VETERANS' REUNION.

Plan For Holding 1912 Meeting at Macon, Ga.

One Hundred and Sixty Camps of State Will Be Asked to Aid. The local camp of Confederate veterans held a very enthusiastic meeting Sunday afternoon at Macon, Ga. for the purpose of helping the general committee in entertaining the veterans here next year at the reunion. The local camp will also act as host during the three days' reunion.

One of the features of the meeting was the adoption of a resolution providing that every member of the camp wear the gray uniform like the one used during the four years' war and the broad brimmed gray hats. A co-operation of the 160 camps of the state is being sought for the purpose of entertaining the vets most royally when the event is pulled off.

NEEDLE ENDS LONG TRIP.

Entered Kneer, Leaves Six-Foot Man's Shoulder.

A pair of tweezers were used by Edmund C. Gaskill, a lawyer of Atlantic City, N. J., to remove a needle that had been in his body twenty three years. It had worked its way from his knee to his shoulder. He found it there when bathing the shoulder in the belief he had rheumatism.

When eight years old Gaskill fell against his mother, who was sewing, and the needle was jabbed deep in his knee. A doctor failed to find it. It was forgotten when the puncture healed. Recently he has suffered from severe pains in his right shoulder and today discovered the cause. That the needle took so long in working through his body may be explained by the fact that he is six feet, eight inches tall.

French Widow Hid Bonds, but Thief Found Them.

Bonds to the value of $50,000, which a wealthy widow had packed away with her bonnets in a hatbox for greater security, have been stolen on the railway between Tarbes and St. Grons, in Southern France.

The widow got out of the train at Montrejean to lunch at the buffet, and left her luggage, including the hatbox containing her securities, in the carriage. She did not hear the passenger bell, and the train went off with her luggage, leaving her behind.

Claiming her luggage, she found that the hatbox had been opened and, although the bonnets were still there, her securities had vanished.

Approximately 5,000 persons entered their names in the first day's registration for land in the drawing of 160,000 acres in the Berthold Indian reservation. Minor led with 2,421, while Bismarck was second with only a score under this number.

Democratic Leader Underwood of the national house picked Wednesday, August 23, as the probable date adjournment of the extra session of congress. He said that it appeared practically certain that action would be taken on the cotton bill.

Elba is the place to bring your cotton.

Madero has been elected for president of Mexico.

The democratic congress which recently adjourned demonstrated what could be done with a democracy in the White House.

President Taft's unwise and unjust use of the veto power is going to cause him to lose his job at the White House in 1912.

According to Champ Clark our President has been guilty of inconsistency to say the least of it.

The president does not want to revise the tariff laws.

Take Woodrow Wilson and Oscar W. Underwood and put them together, and you will have "Wood" enough for the best democratic presidential and vice-presidential timber. It could not be beaten anywhere.

The people of Coffee are going to take their stand in favor of good roads on the 16th, and are long good roads will permeate every community in the county.

The county commissioners and the probate judge are going to build good roads for the county if the people will let them do so, and we feel sure they will.

There are many happy homes thank God in every community and when they exist there goes out from them a blessed influence which can hardly be overestimated.

"A real home with a mother in it," whose hospitable doors are ever open to those not so blessed, is a wonderful power for good.—Brantley Reporter.

The tendency of the national and state governments is toward a greater centralization of the taxing power, and in this matter the principle of local self government is being disregarded. We have an example of this in Alabama today.

The state is taking the taxing power from the counties and giving it to a State Board and the governor.

It Helps!

Mrs. J. F. Daniels, of Sip. Ky., writes: "I was so sick for 3 or 4 years. I had to hire my work done, most of the time. I had given up hope. When I began to take Cardui, I knew, right away, it was helping me. Now, I am better than ever before in my life, and Cardui did it."

Notice is hereby given that at the next meeting of the Coffee county board of education application will be made to change the south 1/2 of the N. E. 1/4 and the north 1/2 of the S. E. 1/4 of section 33, township 4, range 19 from district 10 to district 10. C. H. Byrd, Co. Supt. of Ed.

No Need To Stop Work.

When your doctor orders you to stop work, it staggers you. "I can't," you say. You know you are weak, run-down and failing in health, day by day, but you must work as long as you can stand. What you need is Electric Bitters to give tone, strength, and vigor to your system, to prevent breakdown and build you up. Don't be weak, sickly or ailing when Electric Bitters will benefit you from the first dose. Thousands bless them for their glorious health and strength. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50c at Harp Drug Co.

We are not much in sympathy with the Harmon boosters. We do not think they would be congenial running mates on the democratic presidential ticket. We do not regard Harmon as being in "harmony" with democratic policies, like Woodrow Wilson or Champ Clark and some others.

Hon. John W. Abernethy, of the University of Alabama, is being prominently spoken of as a probable candidate for congress-man from the state at large. If he should decide to make the race, we predict for him a strong following. He has had much experience in legislative matters, and would make an able and brilliant member of congress.

What home is bluest and made happy by whiskey traffic? The guilt and self condemnation is written in unmistakable language upon the brow of the saloon and blind tiger keeper, the lawyer and distiller.—Peoples Ledger.

September 16th Coffee county will hold an election for a bond issue of $100,000 for good roads. The expenditure of this amount of money on the roads of that county will double the value. Every farmer in Coffee county should vote for the bond issue and insist that his neighbor do likewise.—Andalusia Star.

When the expense of last Monday's election shall have been paid, our county treasury will be depleted to the extent of several hundred dollars. This money is very much needed for the betterment of the public roads of our county, and this expense should not have been forced upon the county, and was made possible not only by the action of a legislature dominated by the liquor interest within and without the state. It is the action of that legislature, in matters of this character, and excessive appropriations, and in creating new offices that has brought about the necessity for much activity in increasing the taxes of the people about which we hear so much complaint, rather than the effect of prohibition on the state.—Spot Cash.

Speaking of prohibition—in a letter to the editor of The Star, Congressman R. P. Hobson writes: "In this great social question I recognize no party lines, and it is my firm purpose to continue in this path of duty." Then, sir, it is up to the prohibition party to elect you and you should immediately resign. You claimed to be a democrat when you were seeking office. No man has a right to change his politics and continue to hold a commission from the Democratic party.—Andalusia Star.

The editor of The Star seems to be of the opinion that liquor men only are democrats. But in this he is badly mistaken. We are glad to say. The democratic party is not wholly turned over to the liquor interest yet. Hobson is the right sort of Alabama democrat. We will take such as he is for true democrats.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that at the next meeting of the Coffee county board of education application will be made to change the south 1/2 of the N. E. 1/4 and the north 1/2 of the S. E. 1/4 of section 33, township 4, range 19 from district 10 to district 10. C. H. Byrd, Co. Supt. of Ed.

TENOR RESIGNS IN LIVERPOOL, ENG.

Strike Situation Is Becoming More Alarming.

TROOPS FIRE UPON RIOTERS

Situation Is So Grave That Government Is Considering the Declaration of Martial Law—Strikers Are in Fighting Mood and Show No Respect For Troops.

A reign of terror exists at Liverpool and troops are pouring into the city to put down disorder. A special guard has been detailed to protect the landing stage of the trans-Atlantic steamers, which it is asserted, the rioters have planned to destroy by fire.

Five prison vans, escorted by fifty hussars, which were carrying riot prisoners from the police court to Waltham jail, were attacked by 3,000 members of the roughest class in Vauxhall street, in an attempt to rescue the prisoners. The mob attacked the soldiers with missiles of every description, and in defending themselves the hussars fired. In the affray one man was killed and many persons were severely wounded.

The troops then charged the mob with drawn sabers and cleared the streets. So daring were these rioters that one of them tried to unhorse an officer, who was obliged to use his revolver, killing the man.

Another, but serious affray, in which the troops again were compelled to fire, took place in Bond street. Only a few persons were wounded. In each case before the troops were ordered to fire, many of their number had their faces streaming with blood from injuries caused by stones and broken bottles thrown by the rioters. It is said the government may declare martial law.

TRAGEDY IN FLORIDA.

Escaped Convict Shoots and Kills White Woman.

News was brought to Pensacola, Fla., of a tragedy in Lee county Saturday night in which two persons, one a woman, were killed and another seriously wounded in a fight with an escaped convict.

A Mrs. Weeks, wife of the postmaster of a small town in Lee county, and Willie Williams, the escaped convict, were in a fight with an escaped convict. Williams was serving a life sentence on a convict farm near the Weeks home for the killing of John White and Ed. Dancy, white men six years ago, escaped from the convict farm together with three other life term prisoners Saturday night.

Strolling along the road, the three men were stopped by a woman who was carrying a gun. Thinking that it was her husband returning home, Mrs. Weeks, who was in the car, ran to the door and was also shot. She was mortally wounded and died. The three other men escaped leaving Williams lying on the ground.

He remained there all night and on Sunday morning when Williams returned home to find his wife dead and his son unconscious from the loss of blood. Williams died in the yard some time later.

CAPITAL TO BE CENTER.

Seven National Highways to Radiate From Washington, D. C.

If a bill introduced in the United States senate by Senator Cullom, of Illinois, is enacted into law the national capital will become the center of a wheel of seven great national highways passing through practically every state in the union. The bill was introduced at the request of former Representative J. Floyd King, of Louisiana, and was referred to the committee on postoffice and post roads.

The seven great highways provided for in the bill will have one terminal in Washington. The other extremities proposed are Portland, Maine; Buffalo, N. Y.; Seattle, Wash.; San Francisco, Cal.

Western railroads are facing a $50,000,000 strike. Thousands of employees are ready to walk out in backing up their demand for more money and better working conditions.

Demands for higher wages and better conditions were submitted to the railroads several weeks ago and have been met with flat refusal to consider on the part of the railroads.

The troops were called to fire on a mob of strikers at Liverpool. Bayonet charges were made upon the disorderly element.

After rioters had wrecked property in Great Homer street the district troops were called out and ordered to fire. Several volleys were fired. The mob hid in courts and threw bottles at the soldiers, who made bayonet charges in the darkness and fired volleys up the courts.

Six soldiers injured. Six soldiers and two policemen were injured. The casualties among the rioters is not known. General MacKinnon Wood directed the troops. The strike committee declared a general strike of all transport workers, including the railway, who up to the last, had refused to go out. The strike will be effective on all the local steamboats and the Mersey ferries. Seven thousand dockers struck at Birkenhead.

During the day the lockout threatened by the ship owners became effective and 30,000 men were refused employment until they decide to abide by the terms of a recent agreement.

General Strike Declared.

Several first, believed to have been of incendiary origin, occurred this afternoon. The most serious was at the offices of the shipping federation, which were gutted by the flames.

Great Railroad Strike.

There appears little hope of averting a general railroad strike, which probably will be accompanied by a general labor revolt that will have a tremendous effect on the trade of the United Kingdom.

At a meeting held in London by the managers of all railroads having terminals there, it was resolved that the time had arrived to resist the men's encroachments. The managers intend that the men, by striking, will violate the agreement arrived at after the railway troubles of 1907, under which all disputes were to be referred to conciliation boards or an arbitrator. This agreement, they say, was to run until 1914.

The meeting was unanimous that the only way to terminate dislocation of business would be to take a firm stand and refuse all concessions to the men. The managers expressed fear that there would be grave troubles on all the railway systems before the present week is ended.

TWO LOSE LIVES AT AVIATION MEET

Sad Tragedy Marks Sports at Chicago, Ill.

BOTH VICTIMS YOUNG MEN

Both of the Victims Were Amateurs and Both Were Sons of Prominent Families of Chicago and Pittsburg

Two aviators, William R. Badger of Pittsburg, and St. Croix Johnson of Chicago, both young men, lost their lives at the international aviation meet at Chicago, in dying both revealed the frailty of the craft in which two score more aviators were curving and gliding about the air, with scarcely a pause for the deaths of their contemporaries.

Death in both cases was due to an explained accident, probably the result of unsuspected defects in the mechanism of the machines and was in no way caused by carelessness or lack of responsibility of the drivers.

Badger, a wealthy young man, came to his death in a pit in the aviation field. There had been a flaw in one of the wings of the propeller of the Baldwin machine he drove.

Centrifugal force broke the propeller, upset the delicate equilibrium of the machine and Badger dashed 100 feet to the bottom of the pit, his neck being broken. Johnson fell 500 feet under his engine and was drowned as the result of an equally unsuspected defect. Caught under the heavy engine in the Moisant monoplane, he was carried deep into Lake Michigan and his body was not brought to the surface until an hour later.

Amat-Yama, the volcano in eastern Japan, has been in eruption. Several Japanese students are missing and it is feared that they were in the vicinity when the eruption occurred. The volcano has been active for three months.

Many persons were wounded at Barcelona, Spain, in rioting in the streets, following a demonstration in sympathy with mutineers on board the battleship Minamichi, who were put to death. Soldiers were called out to restore order and fired on the rioters.

Destroy The Mosquitoes and You Destroy Malaria.

The germ or parasite of malaria can enter the body only by the bite of an Anopheles mosquito, which latter must have previously sucked up the germ along with blood from some other person having malaria of several days' duration. The mosquito is harmless unless it has previously bitten a malaria-infested individual.

Once in a person's blood, the germ, or Plasmodium, as it is called, can continue to reproduce and multiply indefinitely unless killed by medicine, making its victim sicker all the time and gradually or rapidly destroying the blood cells.

The chief important fact about mosquitoes is this: without the existence of standing water their breeding is impossible; furthermore they require at least ten days in such water for development, so that ample time is always ours after rains and floods for the draining and filling of accidental pools. With practically no exceptions, all varieties of mosquito deposit their eggs in water, or the eggs require immersion in water for their incubation. The larval and pupal forms also must live in water in order to develop to the adult or insect stage. It is this peculiarity of which we should take advantage, for by removing all pools and collections of standing water, which permit of removal, we prevent the incubation of eggs and the development of larvae or wigglers.

Where houses and yards are widely separated, it is usually true that each household is responsible for the breeding of its own mosquitoes. All pools and collections of water should be immediately filled or drained to dryness. Small collections which do not permit of this should be sprinkled with crude petroleum or kerosene, enough being put on to form a visible coating over the entire surface. This should be renewed every two weeks and also after every rain. The oil stops up the breathing tubes of the larvae and suffocates them. Ponds and streams should be stocked with fish. The best larva destroyers are top minnows, stickle-back, carp, sun-fish, gold fish. The banks of ponds, lakes and brooks should be kept free from vegetation and lily pads, and stagnation should be prevented; the sides of ditches and drains should be kept vertical and free from weeds and trash. The drains and ditches should be kept clean and given sufficient fall to carry off all water. Kerosene should be run through covered drains and culverts at regular intervals. Among the breeding places liable to be overlooked about the house and yard are the following:

Rain water puddles, disused springs and wells, rain water barrels, cess pools, tin cans, old bottles, water pans for pots or chickens, horse troughs, roof gutters clogged with leaves or trash, knot holes, crevices between branches.

All such should be emptied of their water, given a treatment with kerosene or carefully screened, no water being allowed to stand for a week, if possible.

It is hardly necessary, after all that has been said, to urge the complete screening of all living and sleeping quarters. The difference in ventilation is negligible in spite of prejudice to the contrary, and the expenses are small. If metal screens can not be afforded, ordinary mosquito netting is cheap, will last for some time and is easily renewed.

In the house the use of netting

The Pensacola-Chicago National Highway.

Elba may be in the path of two great National Highways. It has already been announced that the American-Andalusia-Mobile highway will come by Elba, and now there is good prospect for the local through Coffee along the same route of the Pensacola-Chicago-National Highway.

On yesterday the scouting party from Pensacola and Andalusia came by Elba viewing the route for a Gulf to Lakes National Highway. The Pensacola scouts were Dr. S. R. Mallory Kennedy, Col. Frank L. Mayes, editor of the Pensacola Journal, and their drivers, A. M. Avery Jr., and F. C. Brent. They will make their entire trip from Pensacola to Chicago, where they will attend the International Good Roads Congress from September 18th to Oct. 1, 1911.

The Gulf to Lakes scouts were met at Andalusia by a large number of Coffee County citizens, including Judge of Probate S. N. Rowe and County Commissioners, Dyess, Livings, Nichols, and Patrick. They succeeded in bringing by Elba on way to Troy, half of the Pensacola scouts and Edward Doty of Andalusia, the others going by way of Lurvenne to Troy, where all the scouts, including Judge Rowe and other Coffee Countians attended a banquet last night.

The scouts were entertained while in Elba at the Hotel Elba where a splendid dinner was served and several speeches were made, including among the number all of Coffee's Commissioners and Probate Judge S. N. Rowe. These speakers predicted that Coffee will give a big majority in favor of bonds and of good roads on the 16th inst.

Coffee County is located in a section of the country through which will doubtless pass many great national highways extending from important centers and trading places of the north to the Panama Canal now being opened. The National government is going to give liberal aid in constructing these great highways of commerce, and if Coffee County places itself on the side of progress and good roads, building by voting for bonds on the 16th inst., it will probably secure the location of several of these national roads extending toward the Gulf ports.

over beds is advisable. It should be obligatory in the case of the sick. The burning of pyrethrum or so-called Asiatic insect powder, the use of various volatile substances, such as tobacco, camphor, kerosene, turpentine, and the oil of pennyroyal, citronella, eucalyptus, etc., are valuable in keeping the insects away temporarily. They may be destroyed in a closed room by the fumes of burning pyrethrum or flowers of sulphur.

None of the makeshifts last mentioned should be considered of any importance when compared with the destruction of breeding places and the complete screening of homes.—From a Bulletin of the South Carolina state Board of Health.

Judge J. N. Ham Continues To Hold County Court.

Disregarding the act of the legislature recently passed abolishing his court, Judge J. N. Ham came to Elba yesterday and held the regular monthly term of the County Court and passed on several matters. The case of great interest was that of the Elba Drug Co. vs. Pate Lee. This is a fictitious suit filed for the purpose of testing the validity of the recent act of the legislature abolishing the court. Attorneys O. C. Doster, Jr., and M. A. Owen filed the suit, and Riley and Carmichael appeared for Pate Lee. Representative John E. Pittman who secured the passage of the act abolishing the court, desiring to defend the constitutionality of his law, employed attorneys Carney and Hickman and R. H. Arrington, who appeared specially to set up the abolition of the County Court, but Judge Ham ruled against Mr. Pittman's attorneys. Messrs. Riley and Carmichael had not been employed by Mr. Pittman but appeared by agreement with the parties for defendant. They filed some pleas and the attorneys for the plaintiff had already prepared their demurrers which they filed and which Judge Ham sustained.

The case will be appealed to the Supreme Court, and when this is done Mr. Pittman's attorneys will appear in defense of the law which he had passed for the abolishment of the court.

The case will be watched with interest, as this is the second time an effort has been made to abolish this court. The lawyers who are fighting to maintain the court contend that Representative Pittman's law is unconstitutional upon several grounds. The case will not be decided by the Supreme court until after next January. If the Supreme Court should declare the court still in existence, the officers of the court will continue to draw their salaries without loss of time and the court will continue to transact business until another session of the legislature, either regular or special is held.

The great majority of the people of the county think this court is an unnecessary burden and expense to the county and want it abolished.

This court was established ten years ago, and during the time it has run the following persons have served as judges in the following order:

Judge J. M. Loftin, Judge J. F. Sanders, Judge H. H. Blackman, and Judge J. N. Ham. Hon. Moses J. Lee and Hon. J. F. Sanders have been solicitors of the court. Mr. Sanders is now solicitor and Judge Ham is now the judge, if the court has not been legally abolished, and they will continue their offices if the court is declared to continue to exist.

If the court has been legally abolished, the Circuit Court and the Justice Courts of the county will have increased jurisdiction, and the county will be saved about $4000.00 a year county court expenses.

That the people of Covington have shown to the world that they are against the sale of whiskey in their county, the officers from the Governor on down, should begin at once to suppress the "blind tigers" and drive them out of their county. And if the officers won't do this, The people should come together in a unite and ask for the resignation of every officer in the county. And then if they don't resign let the people start legal procedure against them to have them impeached.—Graceville Advertiser.

Jokey Discovers in Publicity Bill.

Washington, August 30.—Primary election expense statements from Senators Martin and Swanson, of Virginia, the first to be filed under the new publicity law that went into effect August 19, reached the office of Secretary Bennett of these states, today. In the absence of Mr. Bennett, his office declined to make them public.

Following this declaration a careful examination of the new publicity law resulted in the startling disclosure that in the act, presumed to be most drastic, there is no requirement for publicity of the individual statements filed by candidates for the senate or house of representatives.

The law requires the filing not later than ten days before the primary election of individual expense statements and pledges of appointments. There is no provision, however, for the method of making these statements public, that apparently being left to the discretion of the senate's secretary or the house clerk. Much surprise was expressed today when it was found the law was entirely silent on the point.

Congressmen Glass and Jones, of Virginia, contestants in the senatorial primaries to be held September 7, had not submitted their expense statements today and apparently stood in violation of the law.

Secretary Bennett probably will consult Attorney General Wickersham before deciding upon whether the statements shall be given out.

Senator Hayburn, of the committee on privilege and elections, expressed the opinion that all documents on file in the senate secretary's office except those relating to executive sessions were open to the public.

All the talk about the present conditions in Covington county making it hard for officers to enforce the prohibitory laws is foolish. There is a great howl about the increased taxes, but the tax collector will get the dough just the same. If the law regulating taxation can be enforced against public sentiment, surely the law regulating liquor can be enforced when it has the approval of the majority of our citizenship. If the tax collector fails to do his duty he will lose his job, and we see no reason why the same rule should not apply to every officer in Covington county.—Opp Messenger.

No More Calomel For Them.

Persons Who Have Tried Dodson's Liver Tonic Find It Safer Than Calomel and Just as Sure.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is a vegetable substitute for Calomel that starts the Liver to work just as successfully as calomel does, and hundreds of persons have stepped using the powerful drug calomel to use Dodson's Liver Tonic, mild vegetable liquid, instead. Calomel often shakes up the liver too much, and brings on bad after-effects and sometimes salivation—a terrible condition.

Elba Drug Co. sells Dodson's Liver Tonic at fifty cents per large bottle, and guarantees it to be harmless to both children and grown-ups. Remember this guarantee and try a bottle, next time your liver gets lazy.
